ANS.EIN	ANS.EIN is a fashion brand born in Singapore, where art meets style with a purpose. Founded by designer Anseina Eliza and Erlyn Karmelia, the label celebrates individuality, creativity, and sustainability. Each piece is more than clothing, it is a canvas that blends timeless elegance with contemporary expression. Known for transforming artworks into wearable fashion, ANS.EIN collaborates with artists to give their creations new life on fabrics, sharing stories that connect people to culture and community. Sustainability lies at the heart of the brand, with collections that incorporate eco-friendly practices, upcycled materials, and handcrafted details like batik, tenun, and origami-inspired designs. Beyond fashion, ANS.EIN carries a social mission, directing part of its proceeds to artists and charitable causes. With its blend of artistry, innovation, and heart, ANS.EIN redefines fashion as a platform for storytelling, empowerment, and positive change.	For the 10th Anniversary of National Gallery Singapore, ANS.EIN drew inspiration from the very heart of the museum: its iconic filigreed roof that bridges the two historic buildings. The collection reimagines that experience through fashion. Using precision laser-cut techniques, each piece captures the intricate patterns of the roof, echoing its geometry while evoking the same sense of wonder it inspires. The delicate cutwork brings both lightness and texture to the garments, allowing them to move fluidly and play with illumination, just as the roof does. More than clothing, these designs are wearable reflections of this profound moment. Visit: https://ans-ein.com/
